YKK

Little Parts. Big Difference.

Putting a sustainable touch on what we create.

As one of the world's leading manufacturers of fastening products, YKK cares deeply about our environmental footprint. That's why our product line includes "small parts" with a big impact on sustainability, such as zippers made from recycled materials, and zippers made from plant-derived materials. YKK - Creating products beneficial to both people and the earth.

YKK and Environmental Sustainability

Picture by Nanaiko Mio

MARCH 2020, YKK BECOMES A SIGNATORY OF THE FASHION INDUSTRY CHARTER FOR CLIMATE ACTION

“YKK has a long history of environmental stewardship, which is an integral part of our “Cycle of Goodness” philosophy. Our Environmental Pledge was signed by our CEO in 1994, and we created NATULON®, the first zipper made from recycled PET bottles and polyester remnants, 26 years ago”, says Hiroaki Otani, president, YKK Corporation. “Signing the Fashion Industry Charter for Climate Action signals to the world not only our continued commitment to sustainability in our product development and manufacturing processes, but also our desire to work together with other organizations in the industry to accelerate the reduction of GHG emissions”.

YKK and Social Sustainability

YKK AND COOPERATIVA GIRASOLE WITHIN THE PROJECT CALLED "LET'S WORK"

Let's Work is a real leather workshop for people with physical and mental disabilities, or who are in conditions of marginality and psychosocial discomfort. Together with a team of professionals, day by day aspiring artisans discover the work of the counter clerk, measure themselves in relationships with others and gain new margins of self-confidence. Furthermore, by experimenting with the various techniques of leather processing, they acquire useful skills for a future path of job placement which is not only rehabilitation, therefore, but also professional training, essential for opening the doors to a better future for those with special needs.
